Program Impact:

- Negative - Less ability to collaborate with partners. It is very time consuming to facilitate communication and the sharing of information with our public and private partners minimize duplication and leverage the maximum amount of resources to improving health outcomes
- Negative - Other federal and state programs are experiencing reduced support for infrastructure such as IT support. What was once provided in-kind, must now be paid for, example putting data into an interactive data mapping portal. Public expectations are going up, and our ability to provide easily accessible data is going down
