

Governor Roy Barnes announces the expansion of the Georgia Women's Health Medicaid Program for women with breast and cervical cancer and proclaims October Breast Cancer Awareness Month in Georgia on October 22, 2001. Breast cancer survivors including Sharon Beckman, Deborah Bauer, RN, MPH, of the Georgia Department of Public Health Cancer Control Section, and a staff member of State Rep. Buddy Childers office stood with the Governor for the occasion.

