The National Diabetes Prevention Program (National DPP) Coverage Toolkit helps payers and those making the case for coverage fully understand the program, navigate the steps needed to cover it, and access detailed information and resources. The Toolkit is organized according to payer type: Medicaid agencies, Medicaid managed care organizations (MCOs), commercial payers (health plans and employers), and Medicare. A virtual overview is available that describes the site’s organization, provides tips for navigation, and highlights tools and resources.

Some of the newest and most visited content on the Coverage Toolkit can be found under the Sustainability tab. The Health Equity and the National DPP section offers guidance on how promoting health equity can support the impact and reach of the lifestyle change program and how the program itself can be used as a model and an opportunity to address health-related social needs.

The Umbrella Hub Arrangements pages describe novel innovations within health care and social services to connect community-based organizations with health care payment systems to pursue sustainable reimbursement for programs such as the National DPP.

This publication was supported by Cooperative Agreement Number 5NU38OT000225-04 funded by CDC. Its contents are solely the responsibility of the author and do not necessarily represent the official views of CDC or the Department of Health and Human Services.

If you require this document in an alternative format, such as large print or a colored background, please email publications@chronicdisease.org. Alternate formats can be made available within two weeks of a request.

Revised December 2022

NACDD and Leavitt Partners developed the CoverageToolkit.org with funding from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), Division of Diabetes Translation in 2017. The Toolkit was developed as part of a demonstration project to develop Medicaid coverage models for the National DPP lifestyle change program.